

Communication

LANGUAGE

present simple and continuous; action and state verbs ■ communication

1A Connected

1 How do you keep in touch with people? Order the communication phrases from 1 (I do this less often) to 6 (I do this most often). Compare your answers in pairs.

get a text message

share a photo

give someone a call

reply to an email

check your phone

comment on a post

Go to Vocabulary practice: communication, page 136

2 Think of three people in your life. Tell your partner how you keep in touch with these people.

3 A Are sentences 1–6 true (T) or false (F)? Discuss your answers in pairs.

- 1 We speak to each other face to face more nowadays. _____
- 2 Our phone calls are longer today compared to ten years ago. _____
- 3 These days, it seems we prefer text messages to phone calls. _____
- 4 People in the USA send more letters and parcels nowadays. _____
- 5 At the moment, we are sending a million emails per second. _____
- 6 More than half of the internet pages we visit are social media sites. _____

B Read the text and check your answers in 3A. Correct the false sentences.

We talk to each other less.

Ten years ago, 80% of our communication was face to face. Now, it's only 60%. Even our phone calls are shorter – on average, each call now lasts one minute, compared to three minutes ten years ago. It seems that people prefer texting to calling.

We use traditional postal services less.

In the USA, over 200 billion letters and parcels were sent in 2008, compared to 150 billion last year. These days, we usually write to people by text, messaging app or email. In fact, at this very moment, people are sending two million emails per second!

We love social media.

60% of the pages we view on the internet are social media pages, and we share nearly two billion photos on them every day. The average person has five social media accounts and spends about two hours a day looking at them.

THE CHANGING FACE OF COMMUNICATION

Methods of communication have never changed so much in such a short space of time. We look at the results of recent surveys that tell us about the changing face of communication.

Comments

Tina

It's a shame we don't write letters much, but the postal service seems so slow nowadays compared to communicating online! I need the internet to be in immediate contact with people, especially at the moment because I'm organizing my wedding.

Rob

I agree with Tina, but I still try to send letters and cards on important occasions, and postcards when I'm on holiday. I don't know how people organized things with just snail mail!

- 4 Which piece of information in the text did you find most surprising? Do you agree with Tina and Rob?
- 5 A Look at the highlighted verbs in Tina's comment and answer the questions.
- Which four verbs are in the present simple? Which verb is in the present continuous?
 - Which two verbs describe actions? Which three verbs describe states?
- B Choose the correct options to complete the rules.
- We use the present simple / continuous to talk about things that happen regularly or things that are always true.
 - We use the present simple / continuous to talk about actions that are happening now or actions that are temporary.
 - We can't use the present continuous for action / state verbs.
- 6 Read the Grammar box. Then look at the sentences in exercise 3A again. Do they contain action or state verbs? What tense are they?

Grammar present simple and continuous; action and state verbs*Present simple with action and state verbs:

I call my brother at least once a week. I'm so thirsty right now. I need some water. NOT ~~I'm needing some water.~~

Present continuous with action verbs:

I'm calling you from New York! We're studying French this year.

Go to Grammar practice: present simple and continuous; action and state verbs, page 112

- 7 A 1.3 Pronunciation: sentence stress Listen to the sentences. Do we stress the auxiliary verbs be and do?
- Are you trying to access the internet?
 - Do you need a new laptop?
 - The internet doesn't seem slow at the moment.
 - Why are you using my tablet?
- B 1.3 Listen, check and repeat.
- 8 A Complete the sentences with the correct tense of the verbs in brackets.
- I _____ (not check) my text messages when I'm having a coffee with friends.
 - The price of desktop computers _____ (go) down at the moment.
 - I _____ (like) looking at the selfie photos that my friends post on social media.
 - At the moment I'm studying English online, so I _____ (need) the internet on my phone.
 - I _____ (look) for a new phone because my phone is very old.
 - Most people _____ (have) friends on Facebook that they never talk to face to face.
- B In pairs, discuss the sentences in 8A. Which sentences do you agree with or are true for you?

Go to Communication practice: Student A page 156, Student B page 166

- 9 Complete the questionnaire and discuss your answers in pairs.

How do you communicate?

- When I want to meet up with friends, I normally ...
message them on Facebook. text them.
call them.
- When I'm feeling happy and I want to share good news with people that live far away, I ... send a text message. send a letter.
arrange to meet up.
- When I'm feeling sad, I prefer to speak to people ...
on the phone. on Skype. face to face.
- On my best friend's birthday, I usually send ...
a message on social media. a text. a card.
- I usually share important photos ...
using a messaging app. by email.
on social media.
- When I want to keep in touch with old friends, I usually ...
contact them on social media. email them.
give them a call.

1B Smart living?

- 1 What do you use your smartphone for? What do you think of people who constantly check their phones?

Skill skimming a text

Before you read a text in detail, get a general idea of the topic of the text and of each paragraph.

- Read the title of the text and look at any images. Can you predict what the text is about?
- Quickly read the first paragraph. This will confirm the topic and can give you an idea of the text content and organization.
- Read the first sentence of each paragraph. This can give you information about the main idea of each paragraph.

- 2 Read the Skill box. Then look at the title of the text, the picture and the first paragraph on page 7. Do you think the writer had a positive or negative experience without his smartphone?
- 3 Read the first sentences of paragraphs 2–6. What is the main idea of each paragraph? Match the paragraphs with ideas a–e.
- | | |
|---|--|
| a With no smartphone, he felt less tired. | d There were more advantages than disadvantages. |
| b He worked better. | e He found things to do to entertain himself. |
| c He communicated more face to face. | |
- 4 Read the complete text. Are the sentences true (T) or false (F)? Correct the false sentences.
- The writer stopped using his smartphone because of an article he read. _____
 - Normally his smartphone distracts him when he's working. _____
 - He has become a better listener when he's with friends. _____
 - He doesn't enjoy reading books and newspapers any more. _____
 - The light from smartphone screens helps us to sleep. _____
 - The writer now uses his smartphone differently from before. _____
- 5 Read this sentence from the text. Which word is used to express surprise that something unexpected happened?
- 'I actually talked to people more and felt more connected to them, although we weren't in constant contact online.'

Text builder actually, in fact

To say that something is surprising or unexpected, we can use actually or in fact:

I was worried that I would be bored without my phone as entertainment, but actually I enjoyed it.
I thought living without a smartphone would be hard, but in fact it was quite easy.

Look! We can use actually at the start of a phrase, before a main verb, or after be.

We usually use in fact at the start of a phrase.

- 6 Read the Text builder. Match 1–4 with a–d.
- | | |
|---|---|
| 1 My friends say I'm addicted to my new smartphone. | a but it was actually on yesterday, not today. |
| 2 My teacher's surprised because | b Actually, I don't use it as much as my old one. |
| 3 Tim thought the film was on at 8.30 this evening, | c but in fact I'm staying at home. |
| 4 I thought I was going away this weekend, | d I actually passed the exam! |
- 7 Could you live without your smartphone for a week? In pairs, discuss what you think the experience would be like.

A WEEK WITHOUT MY smartphone

by David Sharpe

- 1 When I read that we spend three hours every day checking our smartphones, I was surprised. What was I missing in the real world when walking down the street, lost in a virtual world of social media updates and videos of dogs on bicycles? I promised myself I would use my smartphone less ... but it didn't happen. But then my phone died and I had to wait a week for a new one. Would I survive? I thought it would be hard, but in fact it was quite easy – and surprising in a good way for a number of reasons!
- 2 The first consequence was quite amazing – on the first day in the office without my phone, I was thinking more deeply and concentrating more. I had re-discovered my brain! Not having access to my favourite apps meant that I wasn't interrupted every five minutes by social media alerts, football scores and WhatsApp group messages. Without these distractions I was more productive and felt satisfied that I'd done a better job.
- 3 Another consequence was that I actually talked to people more and felt more connected to them, although we weren't in constant contact online. At lunch with friends one day, I realized I was being more responsive to their news and sympathetic to their problems because I wasn't constantly checking my phone. Another day I was in a new city and I asked people for directions instead of using an app. Their kindness made me feel welcome, and I discovered my brain has a very good GPS!
- 4 I was worried that I would be bored without my phone as entertainment, but actually I enjoyed it – I'd forgotten how much I love books and newspapers. I'd also forgotten how much I enjoyed doing Sudoku puzzles. I had an app for that on my smartphone, but never used it. Doing one every day in the newspaper felt a lot more special and it became part of my morning routine. My brain felt a lot sharper and much more ready for the day ahead as a result.
- 5 One completely unexpected consequence of not having a smartphone was that I slept so much better and felt more awake in the morning. At night I relaxed with a book before going to sleep, instead of watching Netflix or reading the news on my phone. Apparently, the blue light from smartphone screens makes our brain think it's morning, so it's releasing chemicals to wake us up, just when we're trying to get to sleep. That's not very smart!
- 6 Of course, at times it was extremely inconvenient to have no mobile internet connection, but all in all, there were a lot of benefits in not being connected 24/7. Although I was jumping for joy when my new smartphone arrived, I'm a lot more careful about how much I use it now. So, if you think you use your smartphone too much, put it away for a few days and see what happens. You never know, you may become smarter!

1C Liar, liar

- 1 In pairs, answer the questions.
- 1 What are the people in the pictures lying about?
 - 2 What other things do people often tell lies about? Make a list.

Personal
Best

Go to Vocabulary practice: say, tell, speak and talk, page 136

- 2 A In pairs, do the quiz 'The truth about lying'.

THE TRUTH ABOUT LYING

- 1 How often do people tell lies?
 - a twice a month
 - b twice a week
 - c twice a day
- 2 What do people lie about most frequently?
 - a work
 - b money
 - c unimportant things
- 3 How do people usually answer the question, 'When did you last tell a lie?'
 - a 'I never lie.'
 - b 'I can't remember.'
 - c 'Some time today.'
- 4 How can you know when people are lying?
 - a They don't look directly at you.
 - b They move their hands a lot.
 - c They give unnecessary information.
- 5 Is communication technology making us less honest?
 - a yes
 - b no
- 6 Do men lie more often than women?
 - a yes
 - b no
- 7 Do men and women lie about the same things?
 - a yes
 - b no

B  1.5 Listen and check your answers. Which answer surprised you most?

- 3 Cover the quiz. Complete the questions from memory. Then check your answers in the quiz.

- 1 _____ lies?
- 2 _____ most frequently?
- 3 _____ last _____ a lie?
- 4 _____ when people are lying?
- 5 _____ us less honest?

- 4 A Look at questions 1–5 in exercise 3. How do we form most questions? Choose the correct structure, a or b.

- a (question word/s) + auxiliary verb + subject + main verb
- b (question word/s) + main verb

B Look at question 2 in exercise 3. Is the preposition before the question word or after the main verb?

5 A  1.6 Listen to people telling a lie in three conversations. What is each person lying about? Write the conversation number (1–3).

a receiving text messages _____ b eating chocolate _____ c liking someone's food _____

B  1.6 Listen again and complete the questions.

1 Who _____ all of my chocolate?

3 Who _____ more banana and potato sandwiches?

2 What _____ to you last night?

6 Look at the questions in exercise 5B. Choose the correct options to complete the sentences. Then read the Grammar box about the different question forms.

1 In these questions, we know / don't know the subject of the verb.

2 We use the positive / question form of the verb.

Grammar question forms

Object questions:

Where do you work?

What are you doing at the moment?

Where did you go to university?

Have you finished?

Questions with prepositions:

Where do they come from?

Who did you play tennis with?

Subject questions:

Who called me? NOT ~~Who did call me?~~

Who wants coffee? NOT ~~Who does want coffee?~~

Who invented the telephone? NOT ~~Who did invent the telephone?~~

Personal
Best

Go to Grammar practice: question forms, page 113

7  1.8 Pronunciation: question intonation Listen to four of the questions from this lesson. Does the intonation go up (↗) or down (↘) at the end of the questions?

1 Have you finished?

3 What happened to you last night?

2 How often do people tell lies?

4 Do men lie more often than women?

8 A Complete the questions with an auxiliary verb from the box if necessary. Which question doesn't need an auxiliary?

do (x2) did (x5) have

1 _____ you usually tell little white lies to protect people's feelings?

2 When _____ you last tell a little white lie? What _____ you lie about?

3 When you were younger, _____ you tell your parents lies? _____ you tell the truth later?

4 Who _____ tells the best jokes in your family?

5 _____ you usually say hello to people you don't know in the street?

6 _____ you ever told someone that they can't cook well? What _____ they say?

B In pairs, decide if the intonation goes up or down at the end of the questions in 8A. Then ask and answer the questions.

Go to Communication practice: Student A page 156, Student B page 166

9 Ask and answer the questions in pairs.

1 Who helped you with your homework as a child?

2 Who taught you how to ride a bike?

3 What happened on your first day of school?

4 Who taught you how to drive?

5 Which author wrote your favourite book?

6 What happened on your first day at work?

1D Small talk

- 1 A Read the definition of small talk and look at the topics. Which topics do people typically discuss when they make small talk?

small talk noun polite and informal conversation about light topics, often between people who don't know each other well.

- B In pairs, discuss the questions.

- 1 When did you last make small talk?
- 2 Where were you?
- 3 Who did you talk to?
- 4 What did you talk about?

- 2 1.9 Watch or listen to the first part of a webshow called Learning Curve. Ethan catches a train and a passenger makes small talk with him. Who are sentences 1–6 about? Tick (✓) Ethan or passenger.

	Ethan	passenger
1 He starts the conversation.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
2 He asks where the other person is going.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
3 He's going to City Island.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
4 He asks where the other person is from.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
5 He's from Pennsylvania.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
6 He asks about the other person's job.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

- 3 1.9 Complete the sentences from the conversation with the words in the box. Watch or listen again and check.

so nice mind ahead have excuse sounds living

- 1 _____ me. Does this train go to the baseball stadium?
- 2 Would you _____ if I sat here?
- 3 Uh, no. Go right _____.
- 4 _____, where are you going?
- 5 What do you do for a _____?
- 6 Well, that _____ interesting.
- 7 Hey, it was _____ talking to you!
- 8 _____ fun at the game!

Conversation builder making small talk

Starting the conversation

Excuse me ...
Is anyone sitting here?
Would you mind if I sat here?
Beautiful day, isn't it?

Asking about the person/situation

Are you having a good time/journey/day?
Are you from around here?
So, what do you do for a living?
And what does that involve?
I love my phone. Is it new?

Ending the conversation

Nice talking to you.
Great to meet you.
Have a lovely evening.

- 4 Read the Conversation builder. Make small talk with your partner. Imagine it's your first English class and you've never met.

- 5 1.10 Watch or listen to the second part of the show. Ethan goes to a party and meets Cindy for the first time. Tick (✓) the topics that Cindy and Ethan talk about.

- 1 Penny and Taylor's apartment
- 2 their families
- 3 their jobs
- 4 how they know Penny and Taylor
- 5 the food at the party
- 6 the weather

- 6 1.10 Put the sentences (a–i) in order. Watch or listen again and check.

- a Cindy So, what do you do on your webshow?
- b Ethan Oh, you met at work! So, are you having a good time?
- c Cindy Sorry, I don't know Penny that well. By the way, I'm Cindy. I work with Taylor at the gym.
- d Ethan Well, I'm a presenter, a co-host, like Penny.
- e 1 Cindy How do you know Penny and Taylor?
- f Ethan Mmm! Well, I love carrot cake.
- g Cindy It's a great party. I got here early so I could bring my famous carrot cake.
- h 2 Ethan I'm Ethan. I work with Penny on Learning Curve. It's a webshow. We're presenters.
- i Cindy Hmm, a presenter, that's interesting. And what does that involve?

Skill keeping a conversation going

When we talk to someone we don't know well, we keep the conversation going so we don't run out of things to say.

- Give extra information when you answer a question, e.g. 'Are you from around here?' 'No. I moved here from Brazil six months ago.'
- Respond to a statement with a positive comment, e.g. 'That's interesting! I love Brazil. I've been there twice.'
- Ask open questions to find out more information, e.g. 'Really? What were you doing there?'

- 7 Read the Skill box. Answer the questions about the conversation in exercise 6.

- 1 What extra information does Ethan give when he explains how he knows Penny?
- 2 What positive comments do Ethan and Cindy make?
- 3 What open questions does Cindy ask?

- 8 In pairs, practise the conversation in exercise 6.

Go to Communication practice: Student A page 156, Student B page 166

- 9 A PREPARE In pairs, choose one of the situations below and think of how you could start a conversation with someone you don't know well.

- B PRACTISE Take turns to start a conversation. Make small talk and keep the conversation going.

- C PERSONAL BEST Was it easy to start the conversation and keep it going? What could you do differently next time? Choose another situation and have another conversation.